

NET PRICE CALCULATOR

The purpose of the Net Price Calculator is to show prospective students what the cost of attendance would be less any grant aid for which a student may be eligible.

Things you should know:

1. The Net Price Calculator results you will see are based on awarding policies for the 2022-23 financial aid award year, and includes financial aid data only for full-time undergraduate students;
2. In the Fall 2023 term, approximately 94% of New England Tech's entering students received some type of financial aid.
3. A New England Tech student's financial aid package typically consists of federal and state funded grants, grants provided by the university, as well as student loans provided by federal and private sources.
